Step 4. Select whether you need Google Transit to plan your trip for when you leave or when you need to arrive at your destination.

The screenshot shows a web interface for planning a trip. At the top, there are navigation links: "county", "Dial-A-Ride", "News", and "Tips for Riding". Below this, there are two sections: "Start" and "End". The "Start" section has a dropdown menu labeled "Select a stop..." and a text input field containing "Safeway". The "End" section has a dropdown menu labeled "Select a stop..." and a text input field containing "jack in the box". Below these sections, there is a "When:" label followed by a dropdown menu. The dropdown menu is open, showing two options: "Leave at" and "Arrive by". The "Leave at" option is selected, and the time "9:4" is entered in the adjacent input field. To the right of the time input, there is another input field containing "1:34p". Below the "When:" section, there is a button labeled "Plan your trip with" followed by the "Google Maps" logo and a right-pointing arrow. At the bottom of the page, there are links for "Advertising", "Title VI", "Contact Us", and "Español".

Step 5. Put the date and time you will be leaving or arriving. Type in A for morning and P for afternoon after the time.

The screenshot shows the same web interface as in Step 4. The "When:" dropdown menu is now set to "Arrive by". The date "9/4" is entered in the input field to the right of the dropdown. The time "4:00p" is entered in the input field to the right of the date. The "Plan your trip with" button and "Google Maps" logo are still visible. The bottom navigation links are also present.
