Google Transit Instructions for Computer

Step 1. Type in www.SanBenitoCountyExpress.org into internet browser.
Step 2. In the Google Transit tool on the right side of the browser, select a starting point from the drop down menu.

Or type in an address or the name of the place

Step 3. Select an ending point from the drop down menu
Or type in an address or the name of the place
Step 4. Select whether you need Google Transit to plan your trip for when you leave or when you need to arrive at your destination.

Step 5. Put the date and time you will be leaving or arriving. Type in A for morning and P for afternoon after the time.
Step 6. Click on Google Maps

Step 7. It will load a separate page and may look like something like this:
Click “More options and times” to see different routes and different times you could take the bus.

Click the time of the next trip to preview the steps of your trip.
If you clicked the time of the next trip, the image will change to show you the steps you need to take (on the left) and the route (on the right).

Click here to print your trip steps.
If you clicked “More options and times,” the image will change to show you different routes and times you could take.

Click these lines to explore more routes and times.
If you clicked the Red Line at 2:09 PM, for example, the image will change to show you the steps you need to take (on the left) and the route (on the right).

Click here to print your trip steps.